

Policy constraints trade off destination access and technology-driven lithium recovery

2050 results. Technology scenarios change global recovery; policy constraints mainly redirect destination access and route flows.